Biographical and Historical Note

Publicist and avid sailor Malcolm L. Mackenzie, born on January 19, 1926, in El Paso, Texas, was a founding member of the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation, based in Wilmington, Delaware.

Mackenzie, a graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design and Brown University, owned and operated the publicity firm of Malcolm L. Mackenzie & Associates in Wilmington during the 1960s through the 1980s. In his private life, Mackenzie, who graduated from the Maine Maritime Academy and served in the U.S. Naval Reserve, enjoyed sailing and researching maritime history. Mackenzie devoted much of his life to redevelopment of an area in Wilmington known as the Seventh Street Peninsula, which encompasses heritage sites such as Holy Trinity (Old Swedes) Church and the Carl Milles 1938 sculpture of the Kalmar Nyckel, which commemorated the 300th anniversary of the establishment of New Sweden. This sculpture is located at the "the Rocks," a natural wharf on the Christina River, where on March 29th, 1638, approximately 30 men from Sweden, Finland, the Netherlands, and Germany arrived on two ships, the Kalmar Nyckel and the Fogel Grip. Mackenzie was active in the Swedish Colonial Society and was a founding member of both the New Sweden Centre and the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation, which established the Kalmar Nyckel Shipyard and, in 1997, built a replica of the 17th-century sailing ship.

The Kalmar Nyckel Foundation is a non-profit organization based in Wilmington, Delaware. The foundation was originally organized by a group of individuals interested in maritime history and the first permanent Swedish settlement in America.

The original passengers of the Kalmar Nyckel and her sister ship, the Fogel Grip, established the first Swedish colony in Wilmington, Delaware in 1638. To commemorate this historic crossing, the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation, beginning in the late 1980s, established a working ship yard and constructed a historically accurate replica of the original Kalmar Nyckel. After years of construction, the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation held the inaugural launch of its replica ship in September, 1997. As of 2009, the mission of the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation centers around maritime education and providing the public with opportunities to learn about and work aboard its 17th century Swedish replica ship, the Kalmar Nyckel. Educational programming also occurs at the Kalmar Nyckel Shipyard, located on Seventh Street in Wilmington, Delaware.

Scope and Content Note

This collection contains materials relating to Malcolm L. Mackenzie's publicity firm Malcolm L. Mackenzie & Associates and Mackenzie's personal involvement with the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation, other local cultural institutions, and his interests in general maritime history and historic ships. Materials include publicity materials, written reports, correspondence, meeting minutes, newspaper clippings, facsimile maps, newsletters, photographs, photograph negatives, slides, and sailing and maritime history books. The collection also includes personal papers such as photographs albums, scrapbooks and Mackenzie's ships log, 1946 to 1948, of voyages to ports in the United States, the Mediterranean, the Caribbean, and Europe while serving as a Second Mate in the Merchant Marine.

The materials relating to Malcolm L. Mackenzie's publicity firm, Malcolm L. Mackenzie & Associates, consist of photographs and photograph negatives from various publicity campaigns. Notable campaigns include work for the Wilmington Blue Bombers basketball team in Wilmington, Delaware, the National Personnel Associates company, and the DuPont Company. This collection also contains photographs and negatives of New Castle County suburban development projects such as shopping centers and office parks. Series VII includes material related to several proposed projects, including Beaver Valley Gateway and Beaver Park, Fox Point Park, Heritage Landing and Delaware Waterfront 2020.

The Kalmar Nyckel Foundation materials include a variety of publicity materials, reports, correspondence, meeting minutes, newspaper clippings, facsimile maps, newsletters, photographs, photographic negatives, and slides. These materials relate for the most part to the beginning years of the Kalmar Nyckel Foundation and provide insight into the history of the organization itself as well as into the start-up of a non-profit cultural institution and its impact on community life and other area organizations. This collection also includes significant amounts of material relating to other historic ships and maritime history museums in the United States, Canada, and Europe. Realia items include commemorative pins, pennants, and plaques; a Swedish flag; and museum exhibit text panels.

Mackenzie's personal papers, consists of photograph albums, scrapbooks and a ships log which chronicle Malcolm Mackenzie's childhood, educational experiences, and service in the U.S. Naval Reserve. The photographs in the albums and items in the scrapbooks detail Mackenzie's childhood experiences in Johannesburg, South Africa, and Treichlers, Pennsylvania. The documents and photographs related to his involvement in 4-H, from leadership training to potato cultivation, are other highlights in the albums. His education at South Whitehall High School in Allentown, Pennsylvania; Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts; the Maine Maritime Academy; and Brown University (including the Rhode Island School of Design) are also richly documented.

The personal papers also include Mackenzie's Department of the Navy records and a ships log detailing Mackenzie's travels around the world on various seagoing vessels. He served as third mate on SS Stones River and second mate on the James B. Eads and MS Western Sun. He visited ports in the United States, the Mediterranean, Europe, and the Caribbean.

Series VIII. Personal papers, 1926-1959

Personal papers, 1926-1959

Photograph album, 1935-1945 [Box 6 F129]

Photographs in this album begin in the winter of 1935 and were taken in Johannesburg, South Africa, where Malcolm Mackenzie’s family lived until about 1937. The album continues with images from Laurys, Pennsylvania (1938-1942), recording the local area, including the Spring Flood of 1942 in Treichlers, PA; various family events and Malcolm Mackenzie’s involvement in 4-H activities. Very active in the local and regional 4-H, Mackenzie attended 4-H Leadership Training at Pennsylvania State College in 1942, and raised prize-winning potato crops. From 1942-1944 Mackenzie attended Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts. The photographs taken at Phillips depict the school’s buildings, grounds, as well as Mackenzie’s friends, and athletic events, particularly ones which included Mackenzie. In 1944 Mackenzie entered the Maine Maritime Academy at Castine, Maine and was also accepted to the U.S. Naval Reserve. In addition to images of the school, students, and training, there are photographs of the U.S. Maritime Training Ship American Pilot, on which Mackenzie completed his first cruise from December 1944 to February 1945.

Photograph album, 1945-1946 [Box 7 F130]

Beginning in February 1945, with the return of the training vessel, American Pilot, to New York, the images continue with Mackenzie’s return to the Maine Maritime Academy and include images of the transfer of command from Admiral Dismukes to Admiral McColl. Photographs of the Memorial Day parade in 1945, school activities, new recruits, formations, sailing exercises and the rebuilding of a pier are also included. The album also records Mackenzie’s second cruise (December 1945-February 1946) on the U.S. Maritime Training Ship American Seaman which stopped in Jacksonville, Florida; San Juan, Puerto Rico; Saint Thomas, Virgin Islands; Cristobal, Panama; Santiago, Cuba; Galveston, Texas; Hamilton, Bermuda; and finally Portland, Maine. Each stop is documented with photographs of the port, local area, activities, and friends made.

Photograph album, 1946-1949 [Box 7 F131]

Starting with a return to the Maine Maritime Academy in March of 1946, this album records school activities, such as Mackenzie as associate editor of the “Trick’s End’s,” as well as his visit to his grandmother, various class pictures and his formal portrait as an Ensign, U. S. Merchant Marine, U.S.N.R.
On July 10, 1946, Mackenzie began service as third mate aboard the S.S. Stones River, a tanker that traveled to Port Said, Egypt; Fahahil, Kuwait; Haifa, Palestine; London, Trinidad, Puerto La Cruz and finally returned to Portland, Maine, where Mackenzie was discharged on January 9, 1947. On February 19, 1947 Mackenzie reported aboard the American export freighter, S.S. James B. Ead, sailing from New York, through the Strait of Gibraltar to Trieste, Italy, then to Arzue, Algiers and Bougie, Algeria before returning home in June 1947. The album records Mackenzie's travels and his return to Treichlers, Pennsylvania. The album concluded with photographs taken while Mackenzie was a student at Brown University in 1948 and 1949.

Scrapbook, 1926-1949 [Box 8 F132]

This scrapbook includes documents and photographs which parallel the material in the three photograph albums. Beginning with Mackenzie's birth certificate from 1926 the scrapbook continues through 1947. Included are photographs of Mackenzie’s early childhood, class photographs and report cards, ship’s programs from cruises, calling cards from friends and acquaintances, and records for 4-H Club projects, including his potato cultivation. There is also correspondence and reports from Phillips Academy, material related to his training cruise from the Maine Maritime Academy, as well as clippings of events, newsletters and some artwork by Mackenzie.

Scrapbook removals, 1940-1946 [Box 8 F133]

Items which had detached from the scrapbook housed in F132, such as correspondence from Phillips Academy and the Maine Maritime Academy, programs, 4-H prize ribbons, school athletic letters, certificates and newsletters, are housed in this folder.
